'round town

with Betty Allen...

This isn't the only paper that occasionally makes ludicrous errors . . . my daughter, Denison, and I have been visiting her grandparents in Portland, our former home, and the visit was duly chronicled in one of the papers, but Denison's name came out "Venison". Can't you just imagine the countless family groups seated around the hearth—Mother is aimlessly reading the paper, skipping from the latest axe murder to a new recipe for gingerbread when her eye falls on an otherwise innocuous social item. "Venison!" she explodes. "What kind of a person would name a child that? Venison, indeed!"

Rural areas, hitherto a little smug over the fact that juvenile delinquency has been more prevalent in urban areas, will have to take stock now, for Inspector Edward P. Morgan of the FBI told the National Grange convention last week that over 50 per cent of the nation's juvenile delinquents live in rural areas. A community such as this with no existing youth program could perhaps persuade some of the organizations in town to take up the prevention of juvenile delinquency in a constructive way.

Wonder how many of the newcomers around Campbell know of Mr. Givins and his fixit shop at the back of the library? He's a great favorite with the younger crowd for he's an expert with bikes and wagons. His shop is always spick and span with old bikes and wheels hung from the ceiling and there's plenty of activity around, but he's never too busy to stop and chat.

The bulletin board in front of the Methodist Church has been proclaiming "Opportunity Never Comes—It's Here". And yet it was observed that the Methodists waited until Tuesday's downpour to have the roof patched.

Dorothy and Gladys Merriman are elated over the news that their aunts, the Misses Lurena and Ethel Merriman, have purchased the Kenneth Strong home on Alice Ave. and will make their home here during the summer. At present they are in Arizona.

Robert Taylor, a Campbell High School student, bears no resemblance to the famous movie star of the same name, particularly since he had an accident on a motor scooter last week.- Cause of the accident was a dog and both the dog and motor scooter emerged intact, but Robert looks quite a bit the worse for wear.

FINAL RITES HELD

Yesterday afternoon final rites were held for Daniel Miller Jones who died here in Campbell on Sunday. The services were held at Monahan, O'Brien and Moriarity Funeral Parlors where the County Coroner is reported to have sent the remains. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Entered in the Sun Maid Kennel Club show at Fresno, Nov. 24, is one of Mrs. Virginia H. Ammon's 6-months-old liver spotted Dalmatians. This is the first entry that Mrs. Ammon, of the Kal Dal Kennels here in Campbell, has made.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Jack Anderson Addresses PTA Meeting

"Until we can be assured that all nations of the world are in favor of keeping the peace as we are, we should keep the atom bomb as our own secret," said Congressman Jack Anderson, in the course of his address before the members and friends of the Campbell Union High School PTA. It was the annual Fathers' Night meeting of the unit, held in the High School auditorium on Nov. 13, at 8 p. m.

Jack Anderson

The Congressman gave a vivid description of what he, as an eyewitness, saw and felt and what he termed as "the most important subject in the world today," the first atom bomb experiment at Bikini. He also gave brief word pictures of his trip through the Orient. Following his address, questions from the audience were invited and discussed.

Congressman Jack Anderson's talk helped convey the unit's topic for the month taken from the PTA State program, "Understanding Our Neighbors Makes One World."

Mrs. Raymond Flagg presided over the short business session. Results of the recent paper drive was given by finance chairman Mrs. R. Allinger, and the juniors were announced as the winning class.

Recommendations of the executive board were passed: namely, that the PTA give financial aid, if necessary, to the students in the purchase of a football scoreboard and time clock; that the unit aid in the Civillian Blood Bank program, and that a Peda-spray machine for the girls be purchased. Mrs. Ray Wood will be in charge of the units Blood Bank program. Mrs. Stanley Smith, membership chairman, reported that the sophomores had won the $10 award in the membership drive.

Music was furnished by the High School orchestra under the direction of Mr. Frank Triena.

Commandant L. Carter of Campbell Legion Post 596, led the pledge of allegiance. Both the Campbell Legion Post and the Auxiliary were well represented.

The meeting closed with a selection by the orchestra from "Pinafore", after which all adjourned to the canteen for refreshments.

O'Neal, a Montgomery Hotel desk clerk, was struck by McVea's car at Clayton Ave. and N. First St., at 6:30 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 10, and passed away the following morning at a San Jose hospital. Following the accident McVea immediately stopped his car, called the police and lit flares by which to render all possible aid to the injured man before the arrival of the ambulance.

Following his surrender to Patrolman Seymour Wakeman on Nov. 14, McVea was charged with manslaughter and set free on a $1000 bail. McVea is the son of Mrs. Jennie McVea of Campbell.

BRAND'S TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Open house will be held Saturday, Nov. 23, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., at Brand's Furniture Store at 152 S. Winchester. The new store, which is owned and managed by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brand occupies a new building just recently completed by A. C. Currie.

The Brands, who come here from Whittier, California, have two children, Dolores, 16, and Jimmy, 10. Mr. Brand is a veteran of the Field Artillery and saw 19 months service in the European theater. Since his discharge a year ago he has been working with his brother who owns a furniture store in Whittier.

The new store will carry all types of household furniture and plans on having all types of electrical appliances as soon as they are available. Two different kinds of washing machines will be shown at the open house. Also to be carried by the Brand's will be childrens' wheeled toys.

Incorporation Outlook Brightens; Volunteer Candidates Named

Six Campbell men this week signified their willingness to run for five elective offices in the incorporation election. They are Joseph Gomes, Roy Ford, William Harrison, Earl Buck, Ray Fish and William Wolff. These men have been endorsed by the Campbell Taxpayers' Association, but this endorsement does not mean that other candidates are not urged to run, provided they meet the legal requirements, and it is hoped that at least two men will run for each office.

The outlook for incorporation took on a more optimistic note this week as members of the Campbell Taxpayers' Association completed an exhaustive canvass of the valuation of the area designated by the Supervisors, and, according to Ray Gilpatrick, president, found the valuation to be in excess of $2,000,000.

This amount was considerably more than anticipated and, in conjunction with other sources of revenue available to cities, will offer a substantial income.

The next step will be the setting of the date for the election which will undoubtedly be done soon. A date in January is expected to be set, Gilpatrick believes.

At Tuesday evening's Taxpayers' meeting, open to the public, a fair-sized crowd heard A. R. Spiers, secretary-manager of the Sunnyvale Chamber of Commerce, discuss incorporation and stress the importance of proper zoning within the city.

Special opportunities will be offered voters who have not registered to do so in plenty of time to vote in the election in which all eligible voters may cast their ballots.

Recent contributors to the fund for pre-incorporation expenses include Ralph Schaefle, Dr. Wyland Morgan, Johnny Walter's Barber Shop, De Maria Shoe Store, Lico's Market, Mrs. Florine Peake, and an anonymous donation.

Campbell High To Play On Thanksgiving Day

Campbell High plays host to a highly favored Santa Clara High t o m orrow, weather permitting, and Coach Herb Hudson's boys will really be out to win from a traditional rival who is holding second place in the league. It should be a good game, so be at the local gridiron to witness a thrilling spectacle.

On Thanksgiving Day, the Buc gridsters meet their traditional rival, Los Gatos, on the local field in their last appearance of the football year. The team will be out to win from the much highly favored Cats. This game is going to be broadcast over Radio Station KLOK on Thanksgiving Day, so for those of you who will not be on hand for the game, listen in for Campbell's last tilt of the season.

Christmas Seals On Sale Nov. 25

Chirstmas Seal Sale posters (1000 in all) bearing the message "Protect Your Home From Tuberculosis" are being distributed throughout San Jose and the entire County in preparation for the 40th annual National Christmas Sale which opens Nov. 25.

Chester D. Bartlett, Scout executive, said yesterday at Scout headquarters in San Jose, "Boy Scouts are always willing to cooperate in this worthwhile community project, which protects the health of so many in our county. When Scouts distribute posters and wnen the citizens of this county buy Christmas Seals, they are both telling the tuberculosis association they believe in all that it is doing to protect the health of everybody in this community."

Word from Tuberculosis Association headquarters, room 506 Commercial Bldg., San Jose, reveals that 58,000 letters containing Seals will be mailed Monday, Nov. 25, to all parts of the county. Money raised from the Seal Sale pays for the year-round health program of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association.

Martin Walsh has been named Seal Sale chairman for the Campbell district.

PHILIP NELSON WITH PAN-AMERICAN AIRWAYS

Philip Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, has accepted a position with Pan-American World Airways as radio operator and left last Saturday for Guam, where he will be stationed. His brother Hugh, Pharmacists Mate 1/c, left Monday night for his base in Seattle, after spending his leave w ith his parents in Campbell.

Since Thursday is Thanksgiving Day the Press will not be published until Friday. We hope that all our readers will enjoy a pleasant holiday!

Registration At High School On Increase

Students of the graduating class of 1954 at the Campbell Union High School, might be using the proposed new swimming pool and cafeteria, if nothing else happens to delay their construction. As it is, classrooms for the ever-growing population of the school must come first, and even the much needed instruction rooms are having to wait on materials and manpower.

It is estimated on the basis on incoming freshmen graduation from Campbell, Almaden, Cambrian and Moreland grammar schools that a minimum of 1,214 students will be attending Campbell High eight years from now, and that figure will be doubled in the following eight years. These figures do not take in the students who will attend from the new subdivisions growing up around Campbell. In comparison to the figure of 1,214 of estimated membership, is the present capacity figure of 700 students. Thus classrooms have a number one priority on the building program.

However, plans for a cafeteria to replace the present overcrowded canteen have been completed. In the meantime materials have already arrived for the erection of a temporary building to accommodate students during the rainy season.

SCOUTS MEET IN BARN

By Dudley Herschbach
Scout Reporter

A barn belonging to William Weisendanger was the scene of Moreland Scout Troop 36's most recent meeting. The Troop usually meets in the Moreland School clubhouse, but because of electrical difficulties the barn was used.

Upon entering the barn the boys found it had other residents —a pair of flickers!. This discovery started experiments in the art of catching birds. After capturing and releasing the elusive flickers the Scouts proceeded with their regular meeting, featuring advancement for the Dec. 12 Court of Honor and some lively Scout games.

Constable Attends Police School

Ethan Lanphear, newly re-elected constable of Campbell, is now attending a police school at the county court house two nights a week. The course is being conducted by John Perusina of the county sheriff's office, who has just completed a FBI course at Washington. The school, which will continue into January, is being attended by county deputy sheriffs, San Jose police officers and county constables.

Music Festival To Be Held Dec. 6

First St. The accident occurred when she was attempting to cross Campbell Ave. in front of the Campbell Theater late Friday night. EDITORIAL

In "Round Town" this week the problem of juvenile delinquency is discussed briefly. It seems to us particularly unfortunate that our Youth Council program has been abandoned even temporarily.

In previous years this work has been conducted by a group of citizens who have felt their responsibility to the youth of the community. They have collected money, as needed above that received from the Community Chest, they have organized the project and supervised it. For all this they deserve a vote of thanks and only present circumstances have forced them to give up the Council.

Campbell has many civic organizations which could take on such work, either singly or banded together. These groups are well organized and contain willing workers so the operation of such work should not be too demanding on any one person. Let's not be locking the door after the horse is stolen!

DREW PEARSON

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

WASHINGTON — If you think times are tough today, drop in at the public library and ask for the back files of any newspaper for the fall of 1919 or the early part of 1920. That period was just about as long after World War I as we now are from World War II and the headlines are amazingly similar.

In fact, with the mere change of a few names, a glance at 1919-20 headlines would almost convince you that you were reading the newspapers of today.

We were having the same troubles with Russia then—only a little worse, with American trodps in Siberia and Murmansk. The northern Adriatic, as now, was the chief bone of contention at the Paris peace conference. Only it was Fiume instead of Trieste which caused riots in the streets of Rome and Belgrade.

"Jews Massacred, Robbed by Poles," was another tragic but familiar headline. "Foresees Jewish state in Palestine. Judge Julian Mack tells of atrocities and asks for migration to Jewish homeland."

"Pershing denies large quantitis of war goods destroyed in France."

"Rep. Emerson offers resolution asking war department to what extent soldiers were overcharged in France." . . . "War department criticized for offering $4,000,000 worth of fabrics for sale at public auction." . . . "Sergeants arrested in Paris charged with theft of American stores."

When it came to strikes, race riots and soaring prices, the domestic scene of 1919 was even more alarming. Labor troubles caused far more bloodshed. The alleged Communist menace was much worse.

May day celebrations in Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and New York produced riots, "citizens' armies" and an untold number of skull and political fractures.

By July 6, 1919, the army stood at 704,845, with 235,000 of these in Europe. Eight months later when the Junkers and German army seized power in Berlin, forcing the Ebert government to flee to Dresden, the American army of occupation totaled a nervous 16,000.

Meanwhile, the war department was recommending a universal military training program of three months for all 18-year-olds—more or less as today.

Unchecked by governmental pleas and voluntary programs, prices spiraled. Shoes were three times their pre-war price and women's stockings were offered at "2—$25 a pair." Coffee prices jumped 7 cents a pound and, although the government declared 11 cents a pound a fair price for sugar, it was selling for 30 cents within a year. "Food now costs N. Y. residents 86 per cent more than six years ago," announced the New York Times.

Only a national "buyers' strike in 1920, with prominent society women feeding their families on a dollar a day while their husbands were wearing overalls to their Broadway offices, changed the trend.

New York clergymen were making a survey of churches in an attempt to ease the housing shortage.

Headlines on August 16, 1919, don't seem out of place today. "Director General of Railroads Hines sees danger of coal gouging. Cautions Senate that rumors on shortage may pave the way for price advance." . . . "Begin jailing Germans as war offenders." . . . "Amendments to food control act supported and fought before Congress committees."

All this and prohibition too. "Thousands return to Europe, blaming prohibition here."

Not only were there strikes, but also there were the same, familiar strikes. Telegraph and telephone workers, maritime and a steel strike lasting into the fourth month. . . . Omaha faced a general strike. . . . In the spring of 1919, 10,000 men were locked out of the Willys-Overland plant in Toledo, a strike committee controlled Winnipeg and police were using machine guns in Connecticut strike riots.

In the fall of 1919 a United Mine Workers' strike closed all bituminous coal mines and produced a news story headed "Lewis says miners' demands are 'subject to negotiation'—puts blame on operators."

No, history is just the same. History always repeats after a war.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

THANKSGIVING PREPARATIONS SIMPLIFIED

Preparing and stuffing the Thanksgiving turkey in advance and then putting it in the freezing locker until the day before the holiday dinner is the way some housewives like to cut down the rush of last minute preparation.

Winifred Jecker, home demonstration agent with the Agricultural Extension Service, has some suggestions for those wishing to try it.

1. Extreme care must be taken that all materials in the stuffing are fresh and clean.

2. The dressing should be completely chilled before stuffing, and the bird should also be chilled before being stuffed. It should then be transferred to the locker at once for freezing.

3. Stuffed birds probably should not be held in freezing storage longer than a month because highly seasoned foods such as stuffings change flavor and it is likely to permeate the bird and produce off-flavors.

4. The bird should be thawed unwrapped at room temperature. More time will be required than thawing of unstuffed turkeys, which require 12 to 14 hours. Perhaps large turkeys, 12 pounds or more, should not be stuffed for freezing.

A few suggestions may help in making the dressing for birds intended for freezing storage:

1. Freezing increases the potency of pepper, and this should be cut down markedly in the dressing.

2. Onions may fade out, and you probably need more onions. The onion has a tendency to change flavor some on long storage.

3. The salt sometimes is not as noticeable after freezing, but it would probably be better to wait and add the salt when serving.

The Agricultural Extension Service has published a circular to help prepare a roasted bird that will be appealing to those who pass their plates at your table this Thanksgiving. It carries 44 illustrations showing how to select poultry at the market—tells how to stuff, truss, and roast it—and even gives a table of temperatures and time for roasting poultry.

For further information on dressing or drawing the bird, making dressing or quick freezing poultry get in touch with the local Extension office, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose, or call Columbia 3866 for your free circular.

LOW SIXTH NEWS

Miss Naylor's low sixth grade have finished the units they have been making on Egypt. Some very original and nice ones have been turned in. Now that they are through with Egypt they are going to make another unit, this time on Iraq. They too, will probably turn out very nicely.

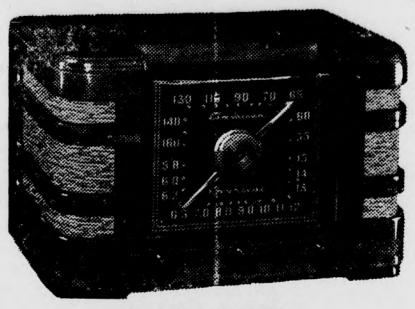

The class is very busy. They have been collecting Christmas cards with three-cent stamps on them for veterans in hospitals to send home. They are also filling two Red Cross boxes, one for a boy and one for a girl, both of which are to be sent overseas to a needy boy and girl.

They have been having a very good attendance record, with not more than three absent at a time. Three have been absent only three times so far this year. They have had many days with no one absent. This has happened four times in succession. With 40 in the class it averages about one absent a day.

TURKEY AND TRIMMINGS SHOULD BE PREPARED, SERVED SIMPLY

Let the turkey take the spotlight on Thanksgiving Day by using simple garnishes for the platter. Parsley and spiced fruit adorn this luscious golden brown bird.

If we are really to keep the Thanksgiving tradition as we understand it, the table should be heaped bountifully with good, wholesome food, well prepared and served family style. This is truly one of the big occasions in our country, and the table should have tasty, well-cooked food in keeping with the idea of harvest.

It's true that cooking during Thanksgiving time means plenty of fussing, but it's not the kind of food that looks fussy after it gets on the table, if you can understand what I mean, and I'm sure those of you who have participated in big Thanksgiving reunions in the past do know just what I'm talking about.

Perhaps the menu doesn't change much from year to year, but that's one of the beauties of the day. We don't have food like this at any other time, so it never becomes tiresome.

Since the dinner involves so much preparation, I'd suggest that you try to make it as easy as possible by taking some shortcuts. By that I mean don't leave everything to be done for Thanksgiving Day, or you'll be just too tired to enjoy yourself. Polish the silver on Monday, clean and recheck the household on Tuesday and do the marketing.

Have son or daughter help in making the mince and pumpkin pies and picking the pin feathers out of the turkey. They'll really enjoy it, and they're a wonderful help.

There are other things which may be done on the day before Thanksgiving, and these include making the cranberry sauce or jelly, preparing the vegetables, the turkey stuffing, etc.

On the day of the big event, you have but to pop the big bird in the oven, probably about breakfast time if it's a large one, so as to be ready for mid-afternoon. Rolls can be shaped from refrigerator dough made the day before and allowed to rise, and last minute things such as vegetables and salad can be taken care of while the dinner is on its way.

If you feel rushed making beds and giving the house a onceover, set up a breakfast table buffet style in the kitchen or breakfast nook and let everyone help themselves. This will leave you free for setting the table, etc.

Turkey Tips

Turkeys usually weigh from 7 to 20 pounds. Allow ¾ pound of turkey to each person. Clean thoroughly. Stuff the cavity after salting it thoroughly. Compute the roasting time from this chart:

Size	Cooking Time at 300 degrees
7-10 lbs.	30 min. per lb.
10-15 lbs.	20 min. per lb.
15-18 lbs.	18 min. per lb.
18-20 lbs.	15 min. per lb.

Savory Bread Pudding
(For 8-pound bird)

- 1½ cups boiling water
- ½ cup melted fat
- ½ cup minced onion
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons diced celery
- 3 quarts likhtly packed dayold bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley

Combine boiling water, fat, onion; simmer 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Stuff cavity of a bird weighing 8 pounds. Double recipe for 16-pound bird. This makes a moist stuffing.

Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce

- 1 cup corn syrup, dark or light
- 1 cup sugar
- 1¾ cups water
- 4 cups fresh cranberries

Boil corn syrup; sugar and water together for 5 minutes. Add cranberries and boil, without stirring, until all of the skins pop, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and allow sauce to remain in saucepan until cool. This makes 1 quart of sauce.

Molded Cranberry Sauce
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 2½ cups cranberries
- 1⅓ cups water
- ⅔ cup sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1 package orange or lemon-flavored gelatin

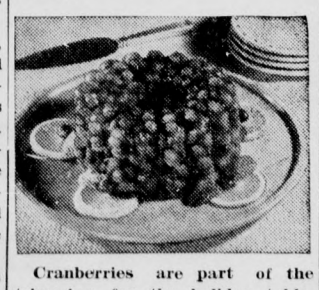

Wash cranberries and palce in saucepan with water, sugar and salt. Cook slowly until skins pop and berries are soft. Drain, measure juice and add enough water to make two cups. Dissolve gelatin in hot juice; add cranberries. When slightly thickened distribute berries and pour into a mold. Chill until firm.

Pumpkin Pie
(Makes 9-inch pie)

- 1½ cups cooked pumpkin
- ¾ cup brown sugar
- 3 eggs
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¾ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups milk
- ¼ cup melted butter

Line pie plate with pastry. Beat eggs, add remaining ingredients, and pour mixture into pie shell. Bake in a hot (425-degree) oven for 10 minutes, then in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 30 minutes or until firm.

This pie may be served with whipped cream or just plain. If desired, a meringue may be used, this latter being especially good if flavored with a dash of nutmeg. Or, if you prefer, it may be sprinkled with ½ cup sliced nuts 10 minutes before it has finished baking.

Cranberries are part of the trimming for the holiday table. Make the mold a day ahead of time and serve it simply as pictured.

If you want a dessert that is not so filling as pie, you will like this cake:

Honey Spice Cake

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons allspice
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ¾ cup honey
- 2 egg yolks, unbeaten
- ½ cup milk
- ⅔ cup chopped raisins
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 egg whites
- ⅓ cup chopped nut meats

Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, salt and allspice and sift together three times. Cream shortennig with lemon rind; add honey gradually, beating well after each addition.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Stir quickly into batter. Turn into greased eight-inch square pan and sprinkle with nut meats. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 55 minutes, or until done.

In his talk, "The Future of the West," Thorwaldson pointed out that the great untapped resources of the Western States coupled with the urging on the part of the government to decentralize over-populated industrial centers of the East, assures us a tremendous economic growth in the Western States and particularly here in our own Santa Clara Valley.

THE PRESS REGRETS

The Press regrets that the story published in the last issue concerning the engagement of two well-known local boys, "Woodie" Tate and Walton "Curly" Jones was all a mistake and there is absolutely no truth in it. We are very sorry that the story was not checked more thoroughly and we regret the embarrassment caused the young men by the false publication.

WANDERLUST

I have drunk deep of the wine of adventure,
It has turned to lees, in my mouth;
I have mined in the frozen Northland,
I have hunted big game in the South.

I have flown across the Pacific
In Hawaii have tarried a while,
Lured by the Lorelei summons,
That lurks in the dusky maid's smile.

I have been a soldier of fortune,
Neath old Mexico's burning sky,
A soldier, from sheer love of battle,
A gamble if one live, or die.

Now I am back in the land of my birth,
And God! It is good to be home,
But I know that again the summons will come
That will force me forever to roam.

For always there dances a will-o-the-wisp,
Just ahead of my groping hand,
Luring my footsteps onward,

I know that my search must continue
Like the quest for the Holy trail.

Until my footsteps shall falter,
And rest — at the end of my

U. C. PUBLISHES PARENTS' BOOKLET

Does your baby suck his thumb, have a poor appetite, sleep poorly?

These and nearly all other problems with parents of young children are confronted are answered in books selected as a guide by the University of California's Institute of Child Welfare.

The guide has been published by the University of California Press under the title, "A Book List for Parents of Young Children". The authors are Dr. Catherine Landreth, director of the Institute's Nursery School; Lucille Allen, research assistant; and Frieda Mogerman, former teacher in the Nursery School.

The list contains nine books, which Dr. Landreth said were selected after a ten-year study "on the basis of soundness of subject matter, simplicity of presentation, practical help offered parents and the human understanding revealed by the authors.

MORELAND WHIST PARTY EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS

The whist party sponsored by the Moreland District PTA proved to be a real success. The social was held Saturday evening, Nov. 16, in the school cafeteria. The entire community turned out for the occasion. A wide variety of valuable prizes were available to the players and everyone did his best to qualify as a winner.

Earl P. Stuart, with a high score of 119, won first prize, while Mr. Brown, thinking that his class had done well enough already, settled for the booby prize with 78 points.

To make things more agreeable, refreshments were served following the distribution of prizes. Proceeds realized from the party will be used to purchase equipment for the school.

* * *

The woodworking class is completing their first project. The 7th grade boys are making decorative wall plaques, while the 8th grade is engaged in making corner shelves. These projects are expected to be completed and ready for exhibition by Thanksgiving holidays.

* * *

Mrs. Montmorency's art classes are engaged in making posters, picturing Christmas scenes. All the work is free hand and repre sents the pupil's own ideas. Some -fine work is being done.

* * *

The Moreland School conducted a ticket selling contest during the week of Nov. 11 to 16. A very spirited contest took place with the 7th and 8th grades coming out on top. The pupils from these two classes sold 70 tickets. George Nelson won the prize for having sold the most tickets with 16 to his credit. Ruth Eyer and Gwen Robertson did a grand job, as did every member of the class.

—Marie Battaglia, 8th grade.

"Kiss and Tell" To Be at S. J. State

The San Jose State College Speech Department today cast F. Hugh Herbert's laugh - packed comedy "Kiss and Tell", scheduled for production Dec. 11 through 14.

Director John Richard Kerr, speech and drama instructor, named Joan Buschner of San Jose, a Lincoln High School graduate, as Corliss Archer, the chief cause of the funny predicaments that keep the neighborhood in a hilarious uproar for three acts.

Corliss' mother will be played by one of State College's most experienced and versatile actresses, Elda Beth Payne. The father will be Deane Healey, who took important roles in last season's productions, "Tonight We Improvise" and "Blithe Spirit".

The love interest in "Kiss and Tell" will be whirling along with Ruth Bryce playing Corliss' best friend, Mildred, who is in love with Lenny Archer, Corliss' brother, played by Clifford Roche.

Joseph Guzzetti has the coveted role of the impish youngster, Raymond Pringle, and Jim Schaar plays Corliss' well-meaning boyfriend, Dexter Franklin, who suffers more at the hands of his family and friends than Henry Aldrich.

Campbell Court Notes

By JUDGE BLAINE

Our national election proved that Americans wanted a change. Ruts are not good, be they political or other.

Some in Campbell thought our Justice Court was a bit in a rut and voted for a change. Even some who voted for the incumbent thought he should be a little harder on people. Four years ago that idea was expressed thusly: "The Campbell judge is a fine man but too lenient."

Well, there are signs of change. Last Saturday afternoon after court hours the judge was getting ready for a bike ride when he heard, "Here's a young woman to see you, and a man is asking for you over the telephone." Roared the fine man, "Tell them to go to the devil."

For years and years the fine man hasn't been able to eat a meal, or shave, or take a bath, without likelihood of hearing, "Here's somebody to see you." Other workers have had their hours off, but no hours off for the fine man. The other fellow's hours off have been thought especially god for getting at the judge.

Americans have been somewhat overserviced. In reaction merchants have shortened hours at both ends of the work day, and most food stores have gone self-service. The public gets on as well or better and life in retailing is more worth living.

Self-service might be tried on Campbell Court. Rather than disturb the peace of the Justice of the Peace out of court hours mail a double parking citation with a dollar bill. Mail a "no arterial stop" citation with two dollar bills. Mail any other minor citation and ask for terms.

On Saturday afternoons and on Sundays there are no court hours. Except in very extreme emergency don't try the fine man's temper. He might lose it, and he'd rather keep it.

The fact is that the fine man expects to be less lenient everywhere. Better avoid arrest. Better wait until court hours tomorrow afternoon before demanding arrest of a nocturnal disturbing neighbor. Things may look different in the light of another day, and tomorrow the fine man may be in better humor and more able to smooth things over.

So much for a suggestion of court change. Change is in the air.

Veterans News

Free vocational counseling through the Veterans Administration is helping thousands of ex-servicemen adjust their sights on post-war careers.

Designed especially to aid disabled veterans, the service is also available to those who qualify under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill).

Vocational advisers with a wide experience in counseling are able to help veterans select and train for a job or trade in which they have the best chance of success. The advisers are abreast of current opportunities in various fields and endeavor to match the ex-GI's personality, experience and capability with his ambition and available opportunity.

Guidance activities are located in various VA offices throughout California, Arizona and Nevada, and at guidance centers in colleges and universities.

The complete counseling of a veteran usually requires from three to four hours of his time, although in some cases a full day or even longer is required.

Vocational advisers are carefully selected. They must have a college degre, a knowledge of psychology, testing methods and a minimum of five years actual experience in business, industry or other fields outside the classroom.

Testing methods have been developed by psychologists nad industrial laboratories all over the country. They have been used successfully by private industry, business firms and schools, so they are really "tested" tests.

* * *

Question: Willthe VA guarantee a loan for the purchase of an automobile?

Answer: Only if the car is needed for the veteran's business.

Q. Can terminal leave bonds be converted to cash?

A. Yes—five years from the date of issue. However, they can be used at any time to pay GI insurance premiums in advance, or to pay back loans made on permanent GI insurance.

Q. Is it possible to convert part of GI insurance and keep the balance as term insurance?

A. Yes. Any amount over $1000, in multiples of $500, can be converted. The balance may be kept as term insurance for as long as eight years from the date of the policy providing it was issued before Dec. 31, 1945. If the policy was issued after Dec. 31, 1945, it may be kept for five years.

Q. Can terminal leave bonds be used as additional security for a GI loan?

A. No.

CORRECTION

The name, Mrs. K. P. Farley, appearing in 'Round Town in the issue of Nov. 7 should have been Mrs. E. K., and the child referred to should have been a son instead of a daughter. (Otherwise it was alright!)

"A Night in Casablanca" is scheduled for Friday and Saturday at the Campbell Theater.

After a noted five-year absence, the Marx Brothers are back again in a bit of rascality well calculated to draw the customers in and give them a good oldtime laugh. They have been provided a screenplay in which, from the opening sequence to the very last scene, there flows a ceasless succession of gags and skits. While many a situation seems reminiscent of an earlier film of the boys, somehow under the touch of Groucho, Harpo and Chico, even a stock incident is turned into a full-bodied laugh.

As usual, the story functions mainly as a vehicle for the boys to display their entertainment wares. The setting is one of elegance in a post-war Casablanca hotel where a treasure of Nazi loot had been concealed after the Allied invasion. Groucho bounds happily into the scene of hotel manager succeeding three predecessors who were casually bumped off. Thereafter the film is launched on a series of bumptious turns and extravagances that culminate in an airplane sequence in which the absconding Nazis come to grips with the trio.

There is precious little sense to the goings-on, but it is hard not not to be tickled silly by it.

Several musical interludes tread through the story, with Harpo finding occasion to display his talent on the harp with a Hungarian Rhapsody by Brahms, and Chico toying on the piano with a version of "Beer Barrel Polka".

Blended into the story is a slight romance between Charles Drake and Lois Collier. As a singing, hip-swaying siren who lures Groucho nearly to destruction, Lisette Verea's performance is just another factor that helps make the picture a delightful experience in cinema farce.

The first Reclamation Act was signed on June 17, 1902, by President Theodore Roosevelt.

The city of Oroville, Butte County seat, was incorporated March 14, 1857.

Report to people who are waiting for telephone service

But the Pacific Coast's growth makes job bigger than ever

Despite severe shortages of materials, we have added telephones at a record pace this year. So far, more than 305,000 have gone into service.

Still, there is a tremendous job to do before we can catch up with the Pacific Coast's spectacular growth and provide service for everyone who wants it. Millions of dollars worth of additional equipment must be manufactured and installed to take care of the orders on hand and new applications which continue to pour in every day.

You may be certain that we are doing everything we can to hurry the day we bring your telephone to you.

Thank you for your patience and understanding.
